

The Professoriate Stream: Criteria for Tenure and Promotion

Based on excerpts from the Part 4 Agreement on Conditions of Appointment for Faculty – Articles 3 and 4

Criteria*	Appointment to Acting Assistant Professor	Appointment or Promotion to Assistant Professor	Tenure	Appointment or Promotion to Associate Professor	Appointment or Promotion to Professor
Teaching	"judged principally on performance in...teaching" 4.01 (a) ; "requires ...evidence of potential ability in teaching..." 3.06	"judged principally on performance in...teaching" 4.01 (a) ; "evidence of ability in teaching"; "successful teacher, and is capable of providing instruction at the various levels in their discipline, but it is sufficient to show potential to meet these criteria" 3.08	"have maintained a high standard of performance in meeting the criteria [of	"evidence of successful teaching... beyond that expected of an Assistant Professor"; "teaching as defined in Article 4.02"; "ability to supervise and mentor graduate students as applicable, with consideration to the norms of the unit" 3.09	"contributions judged by the criteria set out in Article 4 are considered outstanding"; "appropriate standards of excellence"; "high quality in teaching" 3.10(a)(b)
Scholarly Activity (i.e., research of quality and significance, or, in appropriate fields, distinguished, creative or professional work of a scholarly nature; and the dissemination of the results of that scholarly activity)	judged principally on performance in...scholarly activity 4.01 (a) ; "requires ...evidence of potential ability in research" 3.06	"judged principally on performance in...scholarly activity" 4.01 (a) ; "normally requires completion of academic qualifications, and evidence of ability in...scholarly activity"; "involved in scholarly activity..., but it is sufficient to show potential to meet these criteria" 3.08	teaching, scholarly activity and service] ... and show promise of continuing to do so" 4.01(a) ; "the decision to grant a tenured appointment shall take into account the interests of the Department and the University in maintaining academic strength and balance" 4.01(d)	"evidence of...scholarly activity beyond that expected of an Assistant Professor"; "a growing body of productive scholarly activity" 3.09	"contributions judged by the criteria set out in Article 4 are considered outstanding"; "appropriate standards of excellence"; "have wide recognition in the field of their interest"; "growing body of productive scholarly activity, have attained distinction in their discipline" 3.10(a)(b)
Service to the University and the Community	"Service to the academic profession, to the University, and to the community will be taken into account...but...it cannot compensate for deficiencies in teaching and scholarly activity" 4.01 (a)	"Service to the academic profession, to the University, and to the community will be taken into account...but...it cannot compensate for deficiencies in teaching and scholarly activity" 4.01 (a)		"willingness to participate, and participation in the affairs of the Department and the University"; "promotion to this rank is not automatic or based on years of service" 3.09	"contributions judged by the criteria set out in Article 4 are considered outstanding"; "appropriate standards of excellence"; "participated significantly in academic and professional affairs"; "promotion to this rank is not automatic nor based on years of service" 3.10(a)(b)

Notes:

*Criteria are outlined in Articles 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, and 4.04

Candidates for tenure or promotion are judged principally on performance in both teaching and in scholarly activity